

MI-RESOLVE

Family System

We all want what's best for our children, but sometimes finding a plan that works for everyone can be difficult.

The MI-Resolve Family System is an online service from the Michigan Supreme Court's State Court Administrative Office that provides a free, quick, and easy way of resolving some family disputes with the help of a trained mediator.

The mediator can help families work together to create new parenting time agreements, revise current agreements, or create a parenting time plan to make up missed time with their children. If the issue is resolved, the mediator will write an agreement that the parties can sign online and submit to the court.

Types of Disputes Resolved Online

- schedule changes
- make-up time with children
- transportation responsibilities
- shuttling the child's clothing or toys back and forth
- vacations and holiday schedules
- extracurricular activities

How to Use the MI-Resolve Family System

If your Friend of the Court has suggested you try the MI-Resolve Family System or you have been ordered to mediation, your local Community Dispute Resolution Program (CDRP) center can review your case to determine if mediation through MI-Resolve is appropriate. If the case is suitable for online mediation, center staff will invite you and the other parent to a private portal where a trained mediator will work with you to reach an agreement.

If your case has not been ordered to mediation but you are interested in trying MI-Resolve, you should contact your local CDRP center to learn more.
